

PAGE 58

FEATURES

- 5 Editor's Page Matthew P. Murphy
- 7 Going Down the Road
A guide to trailer safety Greg Rössel
- 17 The Chebacco Boats
A trio of options Dan Segal
- 20 The Newfound Rangeley
A strip-planked rowboat for sport and recreation Susan Van Leuven
- 25 The Kingfisher Power Dory
A self-bailing power dory John Eichelsheim
- 28 The Beachcomber-Alpha Dory
A classic racer from Marblehead, Massachusetts Tom Jackson
- 32 Black Skimmer
A Phil Bolger sharpie Mike O'Brien
- 36 Katie
Harry Bryan's 20' cruiser Maynard Bray
- 40 The Albury Runabout
A magic carpet for the water Maynard Bray
- 44 DN 60 Iceboat
"A tinkerer's dream" George Jepson
- 47 North Star Kayak
A modern take on an ancient design Darin Carlucci
- 50 Gray Seal
A Norse spirit in modern wooden construction Geoff Kerr

- 54 The Ladybug Pram
It's a wheelbarrow, and it's a boat Matthew P. Murphy
- 58 Zimmer Utility Launch
Sleek—and silent George Jepson
- 62 Coquina
A classic yacht in a small package Tom Jackson
- 66 The Penguin Class
A family-friendly racing dinghy Chris Museler
- 70 Drake
A faering for today's oarsman Tom Jackson
- 74 The AF4
A weekend cruiser from Jim Michalak Rob Rohde-Szudy
- 78 The Delaware Ducker
A blue-collar performance boat Ben Fuller
- 82 Kingfisher and Kookaburra
These birds can fly Karen Wales
- 86 The Columbia and Catspaw Dinghies
One original, one adaptation—and both classics Tom Jackson
- 90 The Haven 12½-footer
A trailerable classic Rich Hilsinger
- 94 The Morris 17' Model A
The height of romance in the wood-and-canvas canoe Donnie Mullen
- 98 Swallow Boats' SeaRaider
A purpose-designed raid boat Kathy Mansfield
- 102 Biscayne Bay 14
Genius on a small scale Jim Austin

PAGE 82

AUTHORS

Jim Austin (Biscayne Bay 14, page 102) is a boat-builder who lives with his wife, Darcy, in the Pemaquid region of Maine.

Maynard Bray (Katie, page 36; Albury Runabout, page 40) is WoodenBoat's technical editor.

Darin Carlucci (North Star Kayak, page 47), a boatbuilding instructor at the Carpenter's Boat Shop, lives in Pemaquid, Maine, with his wife, Serafina.

John Eichelsheim (Kingfisher Power Dory, page 25) lives in Auckland, New Zealand, where he has worked as an outdoor, marine, and travel writer and editor for 20 years. Most recently, he has been working as a freelancer and on several book projects.

Ben Fuller (Delaware Ducker, page 78), curator of the Penobscot Marine Museum in Searsport, Maine, has been messing around in small boats for a long time. He is a Master Maine Sea Kayak Guide, open water kayak instructor, and is still learning.

Rich Hilsinger (Haven 12½-footer, page 90) is the director of WoodenBoat School in Brooklin, Maine.

Tom Jackson (Beachcomber-Alpha Dory, page 28; Coquina, page 62; Drake, page 70; and Columbia and Catspaw dinghies, page 86) is WoodenBoat's senior editor.

George Jepson (DN 60 Iceboat, page 44; and Zimmer Utility Launch, page 58) is a writer, editor, and avid sailor who lives in Kalamazoo, Michigan, and sails his wooden ketch on the Great Lakes.

Geoff Kerr (Gray Seal, page 50) is the proprietor of Two Daughters Boatworks in Westford, Vermont, and teaches boatbuilding at WoodenBoat School in Brooklin, Maine.

Kathy Mansfield (Swallow Boats' SeaRaider, page 98) originally from Massachusetts, is a freelance writer and photographer now living in Oxfordshire, England. She is a frequent contributor to WoodenBoat.

Donnie Mullen (Morris 17' Model A, page 94) is a freelance writer and photographer who lives with his wife, Erin, in Hope, Maine.

Matthew P. Murphy (Editor's Page, page 5; and Ladybug Pram, page 54) is WoodenBoat's editor.

Chris Museler (The Penguin Class, page 66) of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, is a yachting writer for The New York Times and writes about yacht racing and restoration for a variety of marine magazines. In addition to dinghy racing, he cruises each summer with his family in a Kettenburg Pacific Cruising Class sloop.

PAGE 28

Mike O'Brien (Black Skimmer, page 32), an experienced oarsman, sailor, and kayak instructor, is the boat design editor for WoodenBoat. He also writes and publishes Boat Design Quarterly.

Rob Rohde-Szudy (AF4, page 74) developed his interest in boats in the early 1990s and then started reading everything he could find on the topic. The year 2000 saw the birth of his first child and his first boat—a home-built Michalak Piccup Pram. Since 2005, Rob has been a monthly columnist for Duckworks, www.duckworksmagazine.com.

Greg Rössel (Going Down the Road, page 7) builds boats in Troy, Maine, and is a longtime teacher at WoodenBoat School in Brooklin, Maine.

Dan Segal (Chebacco Boats, page 17) is a former managing editor for Small Boat Journal and of The Yacht magazine.

Susan Van Leuven (Newfound Rangeley, page 20), a wildlife biologist who lives near Battle Ground, Washington, has explored rivers by canoe since her youth. An experienced canoe builder, she is also the author of Illustrated Guide to Wood Strip Canoe Building (Schiffer Publishing, 1998).

Karen Wales (Kingfisher and Koobaburra, page 82) is WoodenBoat's associate editor.

COVER: Eggemoggin Reach off WoodenBoat in Brooklin, Maine, is a good place to see a wide variety of small boats of the kind described in these pages, including an Albury Runabout (page 40), a North Star Kayak (page 47), and a Haven 12½ (page 90).

Photograph by Benjamin Mendlowitz

